

I am sick and tired of negative ads. They have no place in this election or any other election and should be outlawed. How would you like it if your re-election campaign is full of ads and documentaries of every skelton in your closet ... plus one's you didn't even commit?